Kennywood hosts live Missing Pages concert in conjunction with their first DVD release: Modus Operandi

West Mifflin, PA – Kennywood will host a live concert during Phantom Fright Nights on Friday, September 29, at 8:30 p.m. The concert kicks off the release of Missing Pages' first DVD, Modus Operandi, produced and directed by Jimm Needle. (The DVD preview screening takes place at the South Side Works Cinema, Pittsburgh, PA on Saturday, September 30, at 7 and 9 p.m.)

Pittsburgh is the backdrop of the DVD and has special focus on Kennywood. Jimm Needle explains, "Kennywood is known for 'thrill rides', and it sure gave us the ride of our lives! From permitting us to film on location one really cold day during the 2005 Christmas holiday, to adding our music video to their Web site www.kennywood.com, to encouraging a live concert at Phantom Fright Nights, Kennywood has remained enthusiastic."

Modis Operandi is one of the most complete DVD packages ever offered by a Pittsburgh filmmaker. Missing Pages performs their catalog of work, plus the DVD features hours of behind the scenes footage of filming the music video Weekend in LA at Kennywood. The music video is available for download on Kennywood's Web site, www.kennywood.com

For more information about Missing Pages' DVD release, please call 412-596-4804 or visit <http://www.missing-pages.com/dvd>.

Kennywood's Phantom Fright Nights take place every Friday and Saturday from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. through October. Visit www.phantomfrightnights.com for further information.

Missing Pages – background

The relationship between Missing Pages’ members and Jim Needle began at West Mifflin High School. After graduation, while pursuing their respective arts, the group remained in touch through long distance phone calls and emails, often brainstorming ways to meld their love of music with their love of filmmaking. They reunited for a unique project showcasing their talents, their passions, and their hometown, Pittsburgh – Modus Operandi.

Missing Pages sound is stylistically diverse. Pop rock, funk, punk and hints of jazz are just a few of the styles you might experience. With an incredible stage show and melodies to linger in your head, Missing Pages leaves you wishing for more. Band members include West Mifflin Area High School graduates: Josh Christopher, Binks Stanley, Mike Griska, Brandon Barnes and Jake Colavincenzo.

Jimm Needle, the DVD’s producer and director, specializes in innovative, creative, and entertaining productions incorporating state-of-the-art digital media. Jimm strives to design original digital media solutions and deliver them in a dynamic and compelling manner. Jimm’s credits include; websites, animations, DVD’s, short films, documentaries, music videos, training videos, broadcast news packages, and interactive flash portfolios. In addition, he has created projects for the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in Cleveland, Roush Racing in Las Vegas and Michigan, and music videos that have appeared on MTV2.
